INTRODUCTION

Adult education is more than just the GED. However, in Kentucky where nearly one in five people do not have a high school credential, earning a GED is often the bridge that helps them gain employment/advancement or admission to postsecondary education or training.

The GED Tests provide a uniform measure of high school achievement. Passing the tests means the same in every state from Maine to California and throughout Canada. Because of the rigor, validity, and reliability of the GED tests, the GED credential is accepted by 95 percent of employers and 97 percent of higher education institutions. The tests are designed so those who pass the GED tests meet or exceed the performance of that demonstrated by four of every 10 traditional high school graduates.

In FY 2004-2005, 13,071 people in Kentucky took the GED tests: 9,757 passed for a passing rate of 74 percent. This is due to the work adult educators do to prepare students for the GED.

There must be a clear separation between GED instruction and GED testing to protect the integrity of the GED tests. This handbook contains information about the GED tests written specifically for Adult Education Professionals. This information is provided so adult educators can better prepare students for the GED test session.

The handbook also contains information about the policies and procedures of Official GED Test Centers to foster better understanding and cooperation between adult education providers and test center examiners.

BASIC INFORMATION ABOUT THE GED TESTS

The Tests of General Education Development (GED Tests) consist of five tests that measure achievement in subject areas associated with a high school program of study. The GED Testing Service of the American Council on Education makes these tests available. Each year, approximately 800,000 people take the GED Tests nationwide. About one in seven high school diplomas issued in the United States each year is based on passing the GED Tests.

What's on the GED Tests?

Test	Content Areas	Items	Time Limit
Language Arts, Writing Part I Part II	Part I: Organization (15%); Sentence Structure (30%); Usage (30%); Mechanics (25%) Part II: Essay (direct writing exercise)	50 questions and an essay	2 hrs. (total): Part I- 75 min. Part II- 45 min.
Mathematics Part I (calculator) Part II	Number Operations and Number Sense (25%); Measurement and Geometry (25%); Data Analysis, Statistics, and Probability (25%); Algebra, Functions and Patterns (25%)	Part I: 25 questions Part II: 25 questions	90 min. (total): Part I- 45 min. Part II- 45 min.
Science	Life Science (45%); Earth and Space Science (20%); Physical Science (Chemistry & Physics)(35%)	50 questions	80 min.
Social Studies	National History (25%); World History (15%); Economics (20%); Civics and Government (25%); Geography (15%)	50 questions	70 min.
Language Arts, Reading	Literary Texts—poetry, drama, prose (75%); Nonfiction Prose (25%)	40 questions	65 min.

Total test administration time for the GED Tests is 7 hours, 5 minutes.

An examinee may test on each subject area three times in a calendar year. An examinee may not retest on any subject until all five have been taken the first time.

The tests are available in different formats: English Print, Spanish Print, Large Print, and Audiocassette. Special permission must be granted by the State GED Administrator to receive the Audiocassette version of the tests.

WHO MAY TAKE THE GED TESTS IN KENTUCKY

General Eligibility Requirements

- Applicants must have a Kentucky address.
- Applicants must pass the Official GED Practice Test and have a completed GED Testing Application Form (formerly DAEL-6, now KYAE-6) signed by the approved adult education provider. KET students do not have to meet this requirement and are issued a KYAE-6 form on light blue paper.
- Applicants must be 19 years of age.
- Applicants must be at least 16 years of age and:
 - Withdrawn from public or private school for 90 days as certified by the local school district. This proof must be on a school form or official letterhead and be attached to the KYAE-6 form.
 - Or, receive a superintendent's waiver of the 90 days for a postsecondary enrollment deadline, a condition of employment, medical reason, or family circumstances. The superintendent or designee must sign the back of the KYAE-6 form to grant approval.

Home school applicants at least 16 years old may establish a withdrawal date from home school by presenting a letter (attached to the KYAE-6) from the home school to the local school superintendent indicating the applicant has withdrawn from home school. The date of the letter to the superintendent is the date of withdrawal; the applicant must have been withdrawn from home school for 90 days.

Exemptions

Applicants at least 16 years of age with a Kentucky address may take the GED tests if they are certified as test ready and meet the following conditions:

- Enrolled in a Kentucky Department of Education approved GED Secondary Program and approved for the GED tests by the superintendent; superintendent must sign the back of the KYAE-6.
- Enrolled in a Job Corps program.
- Court ordered to take the GED test. A copy of the court order must accompany the KYAE-6 form.
- A state agency child with approval from the Agency Program Administrator as indicated with the signature on the back of the KYAE-6.
- Detained in a juvenile detention or juvenile holding facility and:
 - at least one year behind academically,
 - a minimum stay in detention of 30 days,
 - approved for the GED test by the local school superintendent; superintendent must sign the back of the KYAE-6.
- Committed or placed in a state correctional facility.

No one younger than 16 years of age may take the GED tests.

The eligibility regulation 785 KAR 1:130 is in Appendix A.

THE GED TESTING APPLICATION

A completed GED Testing Application (formerly DAEL-6; now KYAE-6) is required for each applicant taking the GED tests in Kentucky for the first time.

The form is divided into three sections (see Appendix B1 for form):

- Applicant information
- Certification for exemption
- Test Readiness certification

Applicant Information

The applicant should complete page one of the form in blue or black ink. In addition to the personal identifying information, the applicant is asked to specify the last school attended along with the NCES (National Center for Education Statistics) Code.

Find NCES Codes at <http://nces.ed.gov/ccd/districtsearch/>

Applicants younger than 19 years of age must provide documented proof of withdrawal from public or private school and attach the documentation to the application. This documentation must be on official school letterhead or school form.

The applicant is asked to initial beside five certifying statements and one statement authorizing release of test results to the certifying provider. The applicant is not required to allow release of scores.

The applicant must sign at the bottom of the page.

Certification for Exemption

This section is completed only if the applicant is in the Secondary GED Program, a state agency child, in a juvenile detention center, or if a superintendent is granting a waiver of the 90-day school withdrawal provision.

The superintendent's signature is required for these exemptions:

- Secondary GED Program
- Candidate in a juvenile detention center
- Waiver of the 90-day school withdrawal provision

A state agency child requires the signature of the child program administrator.

Test Readiness Certification

Test readiness must be certified by an approved adult educator. Each program files the approved signature with the State GED Administrator's office. The signature of the adult education provider indicates that the applicant has passed all five parts of the official practice test with the same scores required to pass the GED. The adult educator must enter the Official Practice Test scores on the KYAE-6 and provide the date of the assessment.

The adult education provider should complete the provider block with the name of the adult education center, address, and phone number.

The provider/instruction program code must be entered. The provider code is a six-digit number assigned by the GED Office. It is not the same as the AERIN code. The AERIN code is alpha-numeric and the provider code is numeric so it can be used on the demographic form. If the provider code is not completed correctly, KYAE cannot provide data to a program that would assist in improving instruction. A list of provider codes is in Appendix D.

How to File the KYAE-6 GED Testing Application

The GED candidate must provide the GED examiner with the original KYAE-6 GED Testing Application. This is the required document, along with a picture ID, that establishes eligibility to take the GED tests.

The KYAE-6 form is good for six months from the date on the form. The examinee has that amount of time to register and begin taking the GED tests. There is currently no time limit on the amount of time an examinee has to complete or pass the GED tests.

The KYAE-6 is a part of the GED regulation. It cannot be altered or amended without going through the legislative review process. The regulation was last amended August 25, 2005.

A sample of a completed KYAE-6 form is in Appendix B.

THE U.S. DEMOGRAPHICS FORM

The eight-page U.S. Demographics form is important for

- The examinee
- The adult education center
- The test centers
- Kentucky Adult Education
- GED Testing Services

The information on the demographics form creates the test record for each examinee. If the examinee name, address, social security number, birth date, and test date are not correct, the examinee may not receive accurate and timely test results.

The demographics form is the only place the examinee enters his/her address. This is where the transcript and diploma will be mailed. A permanent, Kentucky address must be used.

The demographic data can be analyzed at the program level if the six-digit provider code is entered correctly. The six-digit provider code is entered on the demographic form on page 8, question 2 (Instructional Center Code). Provider codes are assigned by the state GED office. A list of codes is in Appendix D.

Kentucky has added ten state-specific questions to the demographics form. Six questions gather information that will be used for data analysis to help programs improve instruction. Four of the questions allow students to give permission to be contacted about educational and job opportunities. These questions are answered as questions 32-41 on page 8 of the demographics form. Each question is answered YES or NO. The state-specific questions must be provided to students on a separate sheet. This sheet, including instructions on completing the demographics form, is in Appendix C1.

Adult educators MUST assist students so information is correctly recorded on the demographics form. The form is scanned and only the bubbled information is read by the computer. Please review the bubbled information rather than the printed information.

The Demographics forms are available from your Official GED Test Center.

A sample Demographics Form and instructions are in Appendix C.

RULES FOR THE OFFICIAL GED TEST SESSION

There is a pre-registration policy for Kentucky test centers and only those scheduled in advance will be allowed to enter the test session.

Bring to the Test Session

Required Documentation:

1. Government issued picture ID that contains examinee name, address, date of birth, and a signature must be presented at each test session.

Examples of approved identification are

- Driver's licenses
- State ID Card (issued by Circuit Court clerk)
- Passports
- Military papers
- Forms of government (national or foreign) identification that shows the required information.
- The Matricula Consular, which is an official ID card issued by the Mexican Government through its Consular Offices.
- Identification from a post-secondary institution that shows the required information.

High school ID cards are not allowed.

2. GED Testing Application, KYAE-6 (formerly DAEL-6), completed in ink with appropriate signatures and any required documentation.
3. Blue 8-page demographic form completed in pencil. Do not fold.
4. If an examinee is retesting, a copy of the previous score report should be presented.

Fees: (Effective January 1, 2005)

1. The fee is $40 for examinees taking all five parts of the test.
2. The fee is $10 per subject (subtest) for examinees taking individual tests or retesting.

Do Not Bring to the Test Session

Examinees should not bring purses, tote bags, pagers, cell phones, portable music players, hand-held electronic games, food items, textbooks, notebooks, supplies, jackets, coats, hats, or other nonessential items. An area will be provided where examinees can store personal items during the examination.

Nothing is allowed at the examinee desk except testing materials provided by the examiner.

GED TESTING MISCONDUCT POLICY

The GED Testing Service in Washington, DC requires strict enforcement of testing standards. Examiners advise examinees that scores will be invalidated and a GED certificate may be denied or revoked if they engage in any of the following misconduct:

- Presenting false identification.
- Impersonating someone else.
- Receiving test questions or answers in advance.
- Talking during the test.
- Copying from another examinee.
- Removing or attempting to remove any part of the test from the testing room.
- Using unauthorized aids.
- Taking an unauthorized time extension.
- Leaving seat during testing without permission from the examiner.
- Sitting in a seat other than the one assigned by the examiner.
- Disclosing any items or essay topic from the test after the testing session.
- Falsifying a GED certificate or transcript.
- Taking the GED Test more than three times during a calendar year.
- Taking the same form of the GED Test more than once.
- And/or other misconduct or behavior as determined by the GED Chief, Examiner or GED State Administrator.

Adult Educator Misconduct

- Entering the test room during test administration.
- Soliciting information from students about essay topics or other questions on the tests.

REQUIRED PRACTICES AT GED TEST CENTERS

Every official GED test center is under contract with GED Testing Service, an arm of the American Council on Education. The GED Testing Service has rules and guidelines about where the test centers can be located, how the test is administered, and who may take the tests. Each test center has to operate according to these rules in order to remain a test center. Failure to operate according to the rules results in the closure of the test center.

Each state is required to have a State GED Administrator to oversee its GED test centers. B. J. Helton is the current State GED Administrator in Kentucky.

Test Centers receive no state or federal funding specifically for GED testing. The centers are expected to operate from the test fees.

What you can expect from your test center

- Tests administered on the scheduled dates and times.
- Tests administered according to uniform guidelines so all examinees have the same opportunity to do well on the test wherever and whenever it is given.
- A comfortable, well-lit, quiet, ADA accessible test room.
- Parking available for examinees during test and signs directing examinees to the test room.
- Assistance in pre-registering for the test.
- Examiner at the test site one-half hour before the exam.
- Examinees receive scores in three weeks (15 working days).
- Examiners treat examinees with respect.
- Examiner returns your calls and answers questions from examinees.

What your test center cannot do

- Allow students to test without government-issued photo identification.
- Allow students to test without KYAE-6 form with all the required signatures and documentation.
- Admit students not registered in advance to the test session.
- Allow students to enter the test after the session has started.
- Grant time-extensions, allow an examinee to leave the examination room during a test or give other accommodations without prior approval from the state GED administrator.
- Test more than 20 people in one session unless there is a second examiner or approved proctor present.
- Test more people than they have test batteries.
- Test at a site that is not on their contract.
- Allow someone other than an examiner to administer the test.
- Allow adult education providers in the test session.
- Answer the telephone or be disturbed during the test session.

TEST TAKING STRATEGIES FOR THE GED

General Tips

The scores on the GED tests are based only on the number of questions answered correctly. It is to the candidate's advantage to answer every question. An examinee should not spend too much time on each question. If an examinee does not know the answer to a question, they should mark the answer that appears to be the best of the five choices.

If two answers are marked for a question, the candidate will receive no credit for that question. Only one response can be marked for each question. There is only one correct answer for each question.

The candidate should make sure the marks on the answer sheet are dark and completely fill the circles. On the Writing Skills answer sheet the multiple-choice questions have a large bubble surrounding a smaller white bubble; only the smaller white bubble needs to be filled. Make no stray marks on the answer sheet booklet. If the candidate erases, it should be done completely. Make sure that every circle marked on the answer sheet booklet corresponds to the number of the question and to the candidate's answer choice.

Tips for Testing Within the Time Limits

The time limits are sufficient to permit at least 85 percent of the GED candidates to complete the tests while working at a comfortable rate. The use of uniform time limits permits GED Testing Services to ensure each candidate is given the same opportunity to do well on the tests wherever and whenever they are administered.

The examiner will post the time each test begins and the time each test ends. Candidates should note the time and be aware they will be asked to turn in test materials when the time has elapsed.

Candidates sometimes encounter problems with the time limit on the Social Studies test; the Social Studies test and the Science test have the same number of questions (50 each) but the time limit for the Social Studies test (70 min.) is ten minutes less than for Science (80 min.).

Tips for the Mathematics Test

The Mathematics test is in two parts. A calculator is provided by the test center and may be used on Part 1 of the Mathematics test (25 questions). The calculator is not permitted on Part 2 (25 questions).

Most of the questions (80 percent) on the Mathematics test are multiple-choice format; 20 percent of the questions must be answered on an alternate-format grid. All the correct answers fit the alternate format grids. If an examinee has an answer that does not fit they should reread the question to make sure they have given the answer in the form requested. Mixed numbers, such as $3\frac{1}{2}$, cannot be entered in the alternate format grid. Instead, represent them as decimal or fraction form. No answer can be a negative number. Answers can begin in any column that will allow the answer to be entered, but a blank space cannot be placed in the middle of an answer.

A common mistake is to mark more than one answer on the coordinate plane grid. Examinees should mark only the one circle that represents their answer. If more than one answer is given the candidate will receive no credit for the answer.

Formulas are provided in the Mathematics test booklet. Only some of the questions require the use of a formula and not all formulas printed in the booklet will be needed.

Tips for the Essay

The essay must be written on the topic assigned at the examination session. The student reads the assigned essay topic before beginning the Writing Skills test. The topics are assigned randomly.

Exemptions to the assigned topic may be granted because the topic is inappropriate due to a candidate's disability, religion, or incarceration. Examinees who think they should be granted an exemption for one of these reasons can notify the examiner at the test session after reading their assigned topic. Exemptions are not allowed because a candidate does not understand the topic or has no opinion about the subject. All exemptions must be filed with GED Testing Services in Washington and with the State GED Administrator in Frankfort.

If a student writes an essay on a topic other than the one assigned, the essay will not receive a score. The student will receive a score of 0 and will have to take both parts of the Writing Test again. It will be noted on the test history that the essay was off-topic.

If a student writes an inadequate essay, the student will receive a score of 0 and will have to take both parts of the Writing Test again. It will be noted on the test history that the topic was inadequate.

The essay written during the GED examination is considered draft writing. It is expected that the student will have to cross-out words to make corrections. It does not matter if a student uses cursive writing or printing. While students should write as clearly as possible, handwriting and neatness do not affect the essay score.

The student is given a sheet of lined scratch paper to use during the Writing Skills test. This sheet of scratch paper will not be scored; it will be collected with all other test materials at the end of the test and shredded.

The essay must be written in blue or black ballpoint ink on pages 3 and 4 of the Language Arts, Writing Test answer sheet booklet during the two hour time period of the examination. All candidates must write their essays on the answer sheets. If the essay exceeds the space provided, additional paper or use of a second answer sheet is not allowed. Only the writing on the two lined pages in the answer sheet booklet will be scored.

GED Testing Service in Washington prohibits discussing or publicizing the topic or content of any essay. The essay must be treated as confidential material.

The essay topics are just like questions and it is considered testing misconduct to disclose the essay topic.

THE GED ESSAY

GED candidates have been required to write an essay as a part of the Language Arts, Writing Test since 1988. The essay represents approximately 35% of the total Language Arts, Writing Test score.

Scores on the essay range from 1 (inadequate) to 4 (effective). The scores reflect rankings assigned to essays written by the norming population of graduating high school seniors.

The essay is scored at a scoring service by readers certified by GED Testing Service. To maintain high reliability among readers, GED Testing Service provides clear standards against which readers and scoring sites are evaluated. Readers begin each grading session by reviewing these standards that include sample papers that demonstrate the acceptable range of each essay score.

Each essay is scored by at least two readers. Reader one reads the essay and gives it a score. Reader one then masks the score so no other readers can see it. Reader two reads the essay and gives it a score. After both readers have given a score, the scores are unmasked. If the scores given by both readers differ by no more than one point then the two readers' scores are added and divided by two in order to determine the essay score. If the scores given by the two readers differ by more than one point, the essay is given to the Chief Reader to score. The score given by the Chief Reader and one of the original readers are averaged to give the final essay score.

Readers use the holistic scoring method. The overall effectiveness of the essay is evaluated without marking specific elements. Guidelines for holistic scoring are included in Appendix E. The four-point scale for scoring the essay is given in Appendix F. Educators can find sample essays that demonstrate each level of writing in the Administrator's Manual for the Official GED Practice Tests.

TEST RESULTS

GED candidates should expect to receive results in the mail from the State GED office in approximately 15 working days from the examination date.

No Preferential Treatment

All GED answer sheets are handled as if a job or entry into school or the military depends on the results being obtained in a timely manner. Answer sheets are scored in batches by test date. There is no preferential treatment for a candidate needing scores by a certain date.

Non-Passing Results

If a candidate does not pass, they receive an unofficial transcript with scores for each of the tests taken. Only the highest scores earned on each subtest are printed. If the student retested and the scores did not change, then the retest resulted in scores that were lower or the same as the reported score. The fact that a new report has been printed is proof that the retest has been graded. A candidate must successfully complete all five tests in order to receive a passing transcript. In addition to the unofficial transcript a letter from Dr. Cheryl King is enclosed which explains what scores the candidate must have to pass in Kentucky. The letter encourages the student to continue studying at either an adult education center, GED Connection on KET or online at www.KYVAE.org.

Passing Results

When a candidate passes they will receive a diploma and an official transcript. A notice is included which reminds the graduate to store the transcript and diploma in a safe and accessible place since the documents will be needed for employment and educational purposes. The student is advised that they will have to pay a fee to receive duplicate copies of the GED. The student also receives a letter of congratulations from Dr. Cheryl King. The letter encourages the graduate to consider postsecondary education or training. Information on financial aid from the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority is enclosed. Information from KCTCS is also included.

Passing Score Requirements

To earn a GED a candidate must meet two requirements:

1. Earn a minimum score of 410 on each of the five tests.

AND

2. Earn a minimum of 2250 points on the five tests combined (this is the same as an average score of 450 on each of the five tests).

Test results are expressed as standard scores ranging from 200 to 800.

If an examinee fails the Language Arts, Writing Test because of a failing essay, that information is provided on the transcript: 0 represents an inadequate essay or off-topic essay.

GED TEST INFORMATION

REQUESTS FOR DUPLICATE TRANSCRIPTS

Only the State GED Office can provide an official copy of a GED Transcript or Diploma.

Under the Family Educational Rights to Privacy Act of 1974, the Kentucky Adult Education office cannot give scores or pass/fail information by phone and cannot honor verbal requests for duplicate transcripts or diplomas. Since a fee is assessed for duplicate transcripts or diplomas, requests made by e-mail or FAX cannot be accepted.

To request a transcript or replacement diploma, please provide the following:

- Full name under which you tested
- Social Security number
- Date of birth
- When (approximate year) and where you tested (name of learning center, county, or city)
- A money order made out to the KY State Treasurer (personal checks are NOT accepted) A duplicate transcript ($5), a replacement diploma ($25);
- A complete mailing address (home, school, or business).
- If you are requesting your transcript/diploma be sent to an employer or postsecondary institution, you must provide a signed release of records consent form. If employer or postsecondary institution does not have a release of information form, use the release of information form provided in Appendix I. A copy of the request form is also available on the KYAE Web site.

Mail the request to (faxes and e-mails are not accepted):

ATTENTION: GED Office
Kentucky Adult Education, Council on Postsecondary Education
1024 Capital Center Drive, Suite 250
Frankfort, KY 40601

Please allow 10 working days for processing of duplicate transcript requests. Processed requests cannot be e-mailed or sent by FAX.

Students should request a transcript rather than a diploma since more information is provided.

A copy of the GED Transcript/Diploma Request form has been provided in Appendix H. This form is available on the KYAE Web site.

PROCEDURES FOR REQUESTING TESTING ACCOMMODATIONS

In compliance with the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), the GED tests must be offered in a place and manner that is accessible to persons with disabilities. This means GED test centers must be ADA accessible. It also means testing accommodations are available to those with documented disabilities.

In order to receive accommodations in testing, candidates must submit a request form with documentation from a licensed diagnostician and receive approval from the State GED Administrator. An Examiner may not provide accommodated testing to a candidate without prior approval from the state GED office. Providing accommodations without prior approval can result in the closure of the test center. Some modifications to standard testing, such as providing a large print version of the test at standard time, are permitted without prior approval. A list of accommodations that can be provided without prior approval is included in this section.

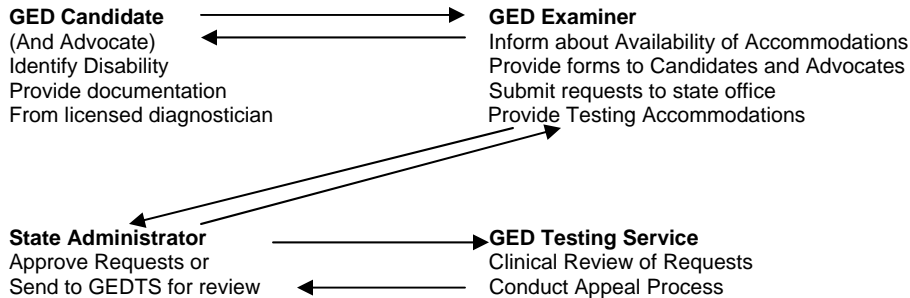

The test center must provide testing accommodations to all candidates granted approval for the accommodations by the state GED office. After the candidate receives approval for testing accommodations, the Examiner and candidate should jointly schedule a test date. The Kentucky State Administrator's office asks that Examiners schedule the accommodated test sessions within six weeks of the time the approved candidate requests the session. No candidate can be charged a fee in excess of the standard test fee for an accommodated test session.

An accommodation in testing does not ensure that a candidate will pass—the accommodation is to “level the playing field” for those with documented disabilities. Those granted testing accommodations must meet the Kentucky eligibility requirements, including passing the Official Practice Test. Those granted testing accommodations may take the Official Practice Test with the approved accommodations.

Overview of the Request Process

Requesting and receiving testing accommodations involves the candidate, the Examiner, the State Administrator, and GED Testing Service.

An adult educator or other interested party may act as an advocate and help the GED candidate through the request procedure.

Role of the Adult Educator

- The adult educator can help identify candidates with disabilities.
- The educator can employ instructional strategies to help candidates with disabilities prepare for the GED.
- The educator can advise candidates about the testing accommodations available on the GED and assist the candidate through the request process.
- The educator can provide supporting documentation for the request for accommodation. Such supporting documentation may include instructional strategies used with the candidate, candidate history, and OPT results with/without accommodations.
- The adult educator can act as the advocate for candidates.

Role of the Advocate

The advocate is an adult (often an adult educator) who helps the GED candidate when he/she:

- Physically can not complete the form(s)
- Is not sure how to complete the form
- Is unable to get the diagnosing professional to put the information on the form
- Has difficulty following the multi-step process.

If the student has a copy of the report from a licensed diagnostician, an advocate can transcribe all the information requested onto the appropriate request form (from the originally signed report), attach a copy of the report to the accommodation request, and complete the advocate information as requested in section 3 of the request forms.

Forms for Requesting Testing Accommodations

In 2005 the GED Testing Service released four new forms for requesting testing accommodations. These forms specifically address the disability and clearly state the documentation needed. The testing accommodations request forms are as follows:

- Attention- Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder
- Emotional/Mental Health
- Learning and Other Cognitive Disabilities
- Physical/Chronic Health Disability

These forms are available on the KYAE Web site, www.kyae.ky.gov, and the American Council on Education, GED Testing Service Web site, www.acenet.edu. These forms can be printed from these sites and copied. They can be printed in black and white; color printing is not necessary. The forms are also available in Appendix L.

In addition to the request forms, a Checklist for Completing Testing Accommodations Request Form(s) and a Testing Accommodations Appeal form are available. These forms are available at the same Web sites as the forms and in Appendix L.

Completing the Request Forms

Each request form is in four sections. Sections 1, 2, and 4 are the same on each form. Section 3 requires documentation relating to the specific disability and is different for each request form.

Section 1: Must be completed by candidate. Requires candidate or parent/guardian (for candidates under 18) to sign the statement authorizing release of psychological or medical information.

Section 2: Must be completed by GED Chief Examiner at local testing center. Examiner completes all information when giving form to candidate but does not sign until the completed form is submitted.

Section 3: Requires documentation from a licensed diagnostician relating to the specific disability. Required documentation for each form is provided below.

Section 4: Completed by State GED Administrator.

Required Documentation from Licensed Diagnostician

Section 3 of each request form requires specific documentation from a certifying professional. The documentation must include the diagnosis, supporting documentation for the diagnosis, provide the functional limitations of the condition, request specific accommodations and provide rationale for how the accommodations address the limitations. Here is the specific documentation required for each form:

- Attention- Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder: A letter on official letterhead, signed by a psychiatrist, medical doctor, or psychologist who specializes in the diagnosis of ADHD, stating the diagnosis of ADHD and providing supporting diagnostic evidence of this disability. A DSM-IV diagnosis must be included. Documentation is current if within 3 years.

- Emotional/Mental Health: Documentation must include a letter on official letterhead, signed by a certifying professional who specializes in the diagnosis of the disability, and providing supporting documentation of this disability. A DSM-IV diagnosis must be included. Documentation is current if within 6 months.
- Learning and Other Cognitive Disabilities: Requires
 - An approved measurement of academic achievement (WJ-R, WJ-III, Ach., WIAT-I, WIAT-II). Other accepted tests are printed on the form. WRAT-III is not accepted. Standard scores should be used. Provide subtest scores if available.
 - An approved measurement of potential or Intelligence (WIC-III, WAIS-III). Other accepted tests are printed on the form. Standard scores should be used. Provide Index and subtest scores if available.
 - A DSM-IV diagnosis.
 Documentation is current if within 5 years.
- Physical/Chronic Health Disability: A letter on official letterhead, signed by a qualified professional, stating the diagnosed disability and providing supporting documentation of the disability. Documentation should reflect current functional limitation. Documentation is current if within 6 months.

Please do not submit notes on prescription pads in lieu of the official letter.

Older documentation will be considered, if that is all the candidate can provide without undue burden or expense.

Identifying Resources in the Local Community

Vocational Rehabilitation has proved a valuable resource for candidates also seeking employment. Qualified candidates are often able to receive the required achievement and IQ tests free of charge with a referral from vocational rehabilitation.

The Individual Education Plans done by schools may contain some of the required documentation. If a candidate has had such a school plan within the last five years, an advocate should help the candidate check the plans to see if it contains approved assessments given by a licensed diagnostician and a DSM-IV diagnosis. Using the information from the school records the advocate can fill in the appropriate information on the request form and attach the full school report.

The Review Process

The local Chief Examiner reviews the request for completeness and sends the request to the State Administrator's office for review. The review at the state level takes one to two weeks. If the state office is not able to make a determination, the request is sent to GEDTS in Washington for a clinical review by a special accommodations panel. This review is supposed to take one month. The request is returned to the state office. The state office returns the request to the test center.

The Chief Examiner at the test center provides the candidate with the results of the review process and schedules a test date with the candidate if approved accommodations are granted.

OTHER ACCOMMODATIONS AVAILABLE

The Chief Examiner may permit the use of the following adaptations and devices without prior approval from the GED Administrator, GED Testing Service, or GEDTS-trained and certified personnel. It is the Chief Examiner's prerogative to examine these materials to ensure that they do not contain any unauthorized testing aids.

Colored transparent overlays: These devices, which resemble tinted overhead transparencies, are widely used by persons with visual impairments and those with learning disabilities who have difficulty decoding written words and symbols.

Clear transparent overlays and highlighter: The combination of clear (untinted) overlays and a highlighter can be used with the candidate who needs to use a highlighter while reading. The highlighting takes place on the clear overlay and protects the test booklet from becoming marked. All used overlays must be collected at the end of each testing session.

Temporary adhesive (e.g., Post-It Notes) with spatial directions: Candidates can affix temporary "sticky" notes on the answer sheet to accommodate a disability affecting spatial orientation. For example, the candidate might flag the sheet for top, bottom, right, and left.

Earplugs: The candidate may use earplugs as an aid in concentration. Some large-volume or busy testing centers routinely distribute earplugs to all candidates.

Large Print Tests: The candidate may use the large print edition of the tests under normal time limits upon request to the Examiner. It is recommended that each GED Testing Center order at least one large print test battery per year for this purpose.

Magnifying Glass: The candidate may use his or her preferred type of magnifying device during test taking. If the candidate uses a magnifier during the standard testing session, the Examiner should take additional care to stagger test forms and must seat the candidate in a way that precludes other candidates from seeing his or her test materials.

One Test Per Day: Candidates may take one test per day upon arrangement with the Chief Examiner at the designated testing center.

Straightedge: Candidates may use a plain, unmarked straightedge made from any safe material as an aid in spatial orientation and reading. If the straightedge is an additional piece of scratch paper issued by the Examiner, it must be collected at the end of the testing session and destroyed with any other scratch paper.

Other Devices As Deemed Appropriate: GEDTS allows other devices without permission as long as they compensate for the disability and do not provide an unfair advantage. (from Ensuring Accommodations for GED Candidates with Disabilities, GED Testing Service)

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Q. My student needs his scores rushed because he has a job waiting/ needs to register for school/ enlist in the military. What can he do?

A. All GED answer sheets are handled as if a job, future education, or advancement depends on getting the results in a timely manner. No preferential treatment is given in the scoring process. Answer sheets are graded at a national scoring center and are batched by test date. All examinees should know in advance that it takes 15 working days to receive GED test results.

Q. It has been more than 15 working days and my student has not received his scores. What should I do?

A. Have the student call the official GED test center where he took the test. Since examiners cannot take phone calls while they are testing, the student may have to leave a message for the examiner. DO NOT HAVE EXAMINEES CALL THE STATE OFFICE. The examiner has the information to solve the student's problem. If the student calls the state GED Office, staff must often consult with the examiner to get the necessary information. This holds up the answer for the student and slows down processing time for issuing transcripts and diplomas.

Q. The test center says my student's test has been graded and mailed to him. Why has he still not received it?

A. Has the student moved since he filled out his address on the demographic form? Many GED diplomas and transcripts are returned because examinees have entered incorrect address information or move before the results are printed. Have the student confirm his address with the GED test center where he tested. The examiner at the test center can make the correction. Advise students to use a permanent address on the demographic form.

Q. My student needs results now. Can the examiner give him a copy? Can I give him a copy?

A. Test centers do not give out score information. Only the state office can issue official transcripts and diplomas. Adult education programs are provided access to student scores through AERIN. These scores are provided to help the programs with instruction, not to provide students with score information.

Q. You misspelled my student's name on the diploma. Can it be fixed?

A. The student enters the name on the demographic form and each answer sheet. If the name is misspelled, it is because the student entered it incorrectly. The diploma and transcript with the incorrect name must be turned in to the examiner at the official GED test center where the student tested before a corrected diploma and transcript can be issued.

Q. My student has married/divorced and wants to change the name on their GED diploma and transcript. How is this done?

A. The name on the transcript/diploma is the legal name entered by the student at the time they tested. Name changes will not be made to the official GED record for marriage/divorce or other legal action.

Q. I have a student from another state. Can that student test in Kentucky?

A. In order to be awarded a diploma from Kentucky, a student must have a Kentucky address.

Q. I have a student who tested in another state and moved to Kentucky. What does the student need to test in Kentucky?

A. The student needs a completed KYAE-6, a completed demographic form, proof of eligibility, government-issued photo ID, and an official copy of results from the state where the student tested. The student must pass the Official Practice Test on any subject not already passed.

Q. I have a student without a Social Security number. Can that student test?

A. A student does not have to have a Social Security number, or even be a US citizen to take the GED test. The student must meet the Kentucky eligibility requirements. If a student does not have a Social Security number, KYAE funded providers should give the student the same number the adult educator used for AERIN enrollment. The student must enter this number on the demographics form and answer sheets in place of the social security number. This will allow the adult education center to access the student's scores through AERIN. The student should indicate on the demographics and answer sheets that this is a "Jurisdiction" code rather than Social Security Number. If you are not a KYAE funded program, bubble KY5, county code of residence (3 digits), birth month and day of student. The test center will be able to access the student record by name and birth date.

Q. A parent called me wanting their precocious 15 year old to take the GED test so she can enter college. What do I do to get special permission for that student?

A. No one younger than 16 years old can take the GED Tests. That is a GED Testing Service policy.

Q. My student is retesting. Do I need to give the student a new KYAE-6 form each time the student tests?

A. No. The student should tell the examiner at pre-registration that he is retesting. The student should bring a copy of his previous scores to the examiner. The student should retake the Official Practice Test on non-passing subjects before retesting.

Q. I know everyone won't show up on test day. Why can't I send over extra students on test day to fill in for no-shows?

A. In Kentucky there is a pre-registration policy for the GED tests. The GED tests are tied to individual examinees. The examiners may only take the number of batteries to the testing room as students pre-registered. Each student is assigned a test in advance.

Q. I know an examiner in another county. Can I get them to come to my center and test?

A. A test center can only test at approved sites listed on their contract with GEDTS. If you want your county to be considered as an addendum site you must establish need and make a commitment to support the test center. The state GED office must approve the new site and it has to be filed with GED Testing Service in Washington DC before any testing can occur.

Q. The examiner told me I would have to pay their mileage and that I would have to guarantee a certain amount in test fees before they would come to my county. Is that legal?

A. Since test centers receive no funding for GED testing, an addendum site is typically asked to guarantee a certain amount of revenue for each test date so the Official Test Center can cover expenses for the test session. Often the addendum site is asked to pay mileage for the examiner to travel to the addendum site and pay either a per-session fee or guarantee a minimum amount in test fees. The sponsoring institution for a test center (usually a Board of Education, Community or Technical College) cannot be expected to subsidize testing for an entire region. All Official GED Test Centers are encouraged to have a written agreement with each addendum site spelling out what services the test center will provide and what compensation the addendum site must provide.

Q. I have a student with a note from his doctor that says he needs to take frequent breaks during the test. He took it to the examiner, but the examiner would not honor it. Why?

A. The student must file for special accommodations on the appropriate form and have it approved in advance before any accommodations can be granted. The forms are available from the test center. A test center will be closed immediately if an examiner grants special accommodations without prior approval from the state GED administrator.

Q. I have a student who needs to have test questions read to him (or must use a computer). What does he do on the GED?

A. Only certain accommodations are available on the GED. Refer to the chart of accommodations available. The GED is available on audiocassette with prior approval. No part of the GED is available on computer.

- Q. My student has had an IEP (Individual Education Plan) all through school. I know he needs special accommodations. Will the IEP work as documentation?
- A. Only the assessments specified by GEDTS will be accepted. See the procedures for requesting special accommodations to find the list of approved assessments. The presence of an IEP may be cited as supporting documentation.
- Q. My student has passed all parts of the Official Practice Test except math. I want him to start taking the GED now and he will continue studying math while he takes the other tests. Can he do that?
- A. A student must pass all five parts of the Official Practice Test before he can be admitted to the GED test. There should be an expectation that the student will be able to earn a GED before he begins testing. This is in the Kentucky eligibility regulation.
- Q. I think my student will do better if he only takes one test per day. Can I schedule that way?
- A. This should be the exception, not the rule. Most examinees should take all five parts of the test over the regularly scheduled test session. The Chief Examiner at the test center makes the test schedule.
- Q. I have a student who has been approved for two times the regular test time. How much will it cost to take the tests?
- A. All official test centers are required to provide testing to those with approved accommodations on the GED tests. The center may not charge more for accommodated testing than the standard test fee.
- Q. The examiner at the test center that serves my area will not test students with special accommodations or Spanish-speaking students. What should I do?
- A. Call the test center and discuss it with the chief examiner. If you cannot reach a resolution call the state GED office.

For each of the following subject areas (A-E), darken the circle indicating the total years (or equivalent) of study you have completed from the 9th grade until you completed your schooling. Do not count a repeated year of the same course as an additional year of study. Then, for each subject area, darken the circle that BEST describes the grades you received in that subject. If your grades were mostly A (90-100) darken A, if your grades were mostly B (80-89) darken circle B, if your grades were mostly C (70-79) darken circle C, if your grades were mostly D (60-69) darken circle D, and if your grades were mostly below D (less than 60) darken circle E. If you did not take a course in one of the subject areas, leave the grade for that area blank.

Instructions and Kentucky Questions for Completing Demographic Form

The demographic form will be scanned. The scanner reads the bubbles. If you print your name, address, etc. correctly in the blocks provided, but do not bubble the correct letter or number, your record will not be accurate. This results in delays, duplicate records, and other problems. CHECK WHAT YOU BUBBLE.

USE A PERMANENT KENTUCKY ADDRESS. If your address is incorrect, you move, or the mail is undeliverable, you will not receive your results. Use an address that has had the same occupant for a long time. Consider using the address of your parents, grandparents, or the adult education center to ensure delivery of your results.

If you do not understand a question or the instructions, please ask the adult education provider or the test examiner.

Questions 19, 20, 26, and 28 ask you to mark all that apply. However, please mark only the most appropriate answer.

You do not need to respond to Questions 29 and 30.

Question 31 has four sections and asks you to mark all that apply. However, please mark only the most appropriate response in each section.

Questions 32-41 are not printed on the demographic form. Please bubble YES or NO beside each question number on the demographic form.

Questions 32-37 will be used for data analysis to help programs improve instruction.

Question 32. Are you enrolled in the GED Secondary Program?

Question 33. Are you enrolled in a job corps program?

Question 34. Are you enrolled in Kentucky Youth ChalleNge Academy?

Question 35. Are you classified as a state agency child?

Question 39. May your name, address, and pass status be provided to Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority?

Question 40. May your name, address, and pass status be provided to Kentucky state agencies and employers working through the state to fill positions and/or create jobs?

Question 41. May your name, address, and pass status be provided to the Kentucky National Guard?

Appendix D

Provider (Instructional Center) Codes

The provider (instructional center) code is entered in the following two places:

- Demographics Form, page 8, Item 2.
- KYAE-6 GED Testing Application, Test Readiness Certification, page 2.

The Official Practice Test has been required by regulation since 1995. At that time each provider was assigned a test readiness provider code. Effective July 1, 2005, KYAE reassigned the provider codes for consistency and data analysis. The new code is a six-digit number based on the type of program issuing the test readiness certification and the county. Here is a summary of the new provider codes:

Code	Test Readiness Certified by
22+county code+ 2	KYAE County Programs
33+county code+ 3	KYAE Statewide Programs
44+county code+ 4	GED Secondary Program
55+county code+ 5	State Correctional Programs
66+county code+ 6	Juvenile Detention Programs
77+county code+ 7	AE Providers with no KYAE Funding
88+county code+ 8	KET
99+county code+ 9	Job Corps Programs

Attached is a list of codes and the authorized signatures on file with our office. Please contact B. J. Helton, bj.helton@ky.gov if the authorized signature for your program has changed or is missing.

Juvenile detention, KET, and Job Corps provide adult education services without KYAE funding. Entities that do not receive KYAE funding to provide services, but desire to administer the OPT for test readiness certification must submit a written request annually for this designation.

If a non-funded provider is using your test readiness code, you must be providing the OPT service before entering as assessment only.

GED ESSAY SCORING

Guidelines for Holistic Scoring

1. Read and score. Read for an overall impression of the essay. Record your score immediately. Avoid the temptation to reread the essay to justify your score in terms of specific errors.
2. Red pens down. Holistic readers do not make marks on essays they score. There are two major reasons for this. First, there is no time to mark papers in this fashion. Each paper should be scored within a minute or two. Secondly, marking errors directs too much attention to one trait, while allowing the reader to ignore other positive features.
3. Do not change your score. Avoid second-guessing yourself. Make changes only if you made a recording error.
4. When in doubt, refer to the scoring guide criteria. Do not compare an essay to another essay or order essays in terms of quality. Instead refer to the scale and your internalized concept of the score points.
5. Be aware that there can be a range of essays within a score point. (i.e., all 2s are not created equal). There are “high”, “medium”, and “low”, essays within each score point.
6. Avoid the tendency to adjust the number of 1s, 2s, 3s, and 4s in a given set of essays. You may have an entire packet of 2s or 3s.
7. Be aware of and avoid potential biasing factors.
8. Score only what is on the paper. Avoid making assumptions about the writer’s potential, why the writer omitted an idea, intended bridges between concepts, etc.
9. This is only a 45 minutes test. Remember, candidates had only 45 minutes to read the prompt, to write a first draft, and to write the final draft. Do not compare the finished product with assignments that allow students more time to prepare.

INTERPRETING GED TEST RESULTS

The sample Official Transcript of GED Tests Results below reports sample scores for a GED test-taker.

Your performance on each of the five GED Tests is reported in two ways: as "standard scores," ranging from 200 to 800, and "percentile ranks," ranging from 1 to 99. Both scores compare your results to scores earned by a recent representative national sample of high school seniors.

Approximately 68% of all graduating seniors score between 400 and 600 on the standard score scale. Only 2% of graduating seniors score lower than 300 or higher than 700.

The standard score column shows the standard score you earned on each test. A standard score of 410 on each test and an average score of 450 for the five-test battery is the minimum passing standard set by GEDTS. A jurisdiction may set a passing standard that exceeds this.

The percentile rank column shows the percentage of graduating seniors who earned scores at or below your test scores. For example, this test-taker scored better than 97% of graduating high school seniors on the Mathematics Test.

If you do not pass, you can retake the GED Tests in order to raise your scores. The local GED Examiner can provide information about retesting. If you earn a standard score of 350 or lower, GED Testing Service generally recommends further study in those subject areas. You may also consider contacting local adult education programs for information about instructional classes.
